3. Organisational structure of the Competition

- 3.1. Organising Committee - provides organisational support for the events of the Competition and forms the jury.
- 3.2. Competition Directorate - ensures the organisation and conduct of the competition.
- 3.3. Jury - evaluates the compositions submitted on condition of anonymity and determines the best works, guided by professional criteria.

4. Nominations of the Competition

The competition is held in one category: work for organ (solo).

The criterion for the selection of the works will be the musical beauty, colourful expressiveness of the musical material, a wide range of timbre colours of a musical instrument organ and high-quality musical scores for organ.

Compositions can relate to any style of contemporary academic and popular music (Popular modern classics, Neoclassicism, Neo-baroque, etc.) and genres (including mixed ones); that is, music that presupposes the widest stylistic palette of musical means of expression and is designed for the perception of a mass audience.

The proposed topics for creating works are historical themes from the history of the Russian Empire, or works dedicated to outstanding personalities, significant in the history of Russia in the 18th - 19th centuries. The second direction is the spiritual theme of the works.

5. Procedure for the Contest

- 5.1. The Competition is open to composers whose age as of June 1, 2021, will be from 14 to 35 years old inclusive.
